Animal Protection of New Mexico

Animal Protection of New Mexico (APNM) is a statewide nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization. Since 1979, APNM has been advocating for animals by effecting systemic change, working towards the humane treatment of all animals. This includes active support of local and state legislation towards the prevention of animal cruelty, as well as public awareness campaigns designed to teach students and communities across New Mexico about the ongoing threats to animals.

What else is possible with your participation?

What began as a small, dedicated group of residents concerned about the unmet needs of animals has grown into an influential organization that is making a noticeable difference for New Mexico’s animals and the communities in which they live. We are responsible for the passage of dozens of laws to protect animals in the state (apnm.org/ accomplishments), while dramatically raising the visibility of issues New Mexico’s animal population regularly faces.

APNM accomplishes its goals through education and outreach, as well as campaigns for change, working with other dedicated individuals, agencies, and organizations throughout New Mexico communities. Our legislative arm, Animal Protection Voters (apvnm.org), lobbies on behalf of animals and holds elected officials accountable. And through the Equine Protection Fund, we provide leadership and assistance to help the thousands of horses throughout the state threatened by abuse or neglect. Through our Companion Animal Rescue Effort, we provide temporary safe haven for the animals of domestic violence victims, allowing victims to leave their abusers and seek shelter knowing their animals will also be safe from abuse, and knowing they will later be reunited with their animal companions.

Report Animal Cruelty

APNM’s Hotline and Cruelty Case Management system is unlike anything offered in any other state. Callers regularly tell APNM that no one else responded to their calls and that APNM made all the difference for an individual animal. Most calls are returned within 24 hours. Approximately 400 animal cruelty cases are reported to the hotline each year. APNM’s animal cruelty hotline service is invaluable for the public who witness neglect and cruelty because often the information about animals in jeopardy can lead to eventual relief for many animal victims.
