

NEW MEXICO ANIMAL RESOURCES GUIDE

Compiled and Produced by Animal Protection of New Mexico

Animal Protection of New Mexico, Inc. (APNM) has been advocating for the humane treatment of animals since 1979. APNM is a nonprofit, 501 (c)(3) organization supported by donations, volunteers, and grants. APNM accomplishes its work through education and outreach and campaigns for change. Our legislative arm, Animal Protection Voters (APV), lobbies on behalf of animals and holds elected officials accountable. See more at apnm.org and apvnm.org. The New Mexico Animal Resources Guide is provided as a comprehensive reference guide for animal-related agencies, organizations, and law enforcement throughout New Mexico. Note: Inclusion in this Guide does not reflect any particular endorsement by APNM of the organizations or individuals listed.

Greyhound Companions of New Mexico is a certified nonprofit organization founded in 1993 for the purpose of rescuing retired racing greyhounds. We have evolved into a program concerned not only for the welfare of existing greyhounds, but for the future of the many greyhounds being bred for the purpose of racing. We believe it is important to address the whole story about greyhounds, not just find homes for them. Adopting out greyhounds while failing to provide details on their plight is doing a disservice to every greyhound we place and every greyhound destined for the spc of pari-mutuel racing.

vivapaws@gmail.com

viva-nm.org

Viva! NM Rural Animal Rescue is a small, volunteer-based animal rescue located in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Established in 2012, we work throughout the state of New Mexico to help rural animal shelters lower their euthanasia rates.

Our efforts are focused on responsibly re-homing pets, promoting spay and neuter, community education, networking with other rescues, and helping shelters achieve an online presence.

Shelters are limited in kennel space, so we help to assist with other rescues that sponsor shelter pets in and out of state by pulling and temporary foster until transport can be arranged to these rescues. This opens kennel space so that fewer animals are euthanized and prevents the death of animals that have rescues wanting to help.

In 2002, we got permission from the NMSU administration to conduct a Trap-Neuter-Return (TNR) program on campus, with a mission of stabilizing/reducing the feral cat population here at NMSU. We accomplished this goal by spaying or neutering, vaccinating and microchipping the felines; tipping their left ear to identify them as having been TNR'd; then returning them to campus where they lived out their lives. When we began our program in 2002, there were an estimated 200-250 cats on the campus. Today, there are less than 40 cats living on campus, with an average age of ten years. We have since disbanded the formal FCaMP program, but those of us currently caring for established colonies will continue to do so until all of those cats are gone. It has been a pleasure and a privilege to help the campus cats.

Our mission is to use science, education, and advocacy to promote compassionate conservation and coexistence with snakes. We provide resources to help people live safely with their snake neighbors and appreciate their encounters; bust myths and misconceptions; illustrate lesser-known snake behaviors with stories; and recommend yard and human behavior modifications to reduce human-snake conflicts. We share this information in southwest New Mexico at workshops, festivals, and presentations; distribute printed factsheets, brochures, and newsletters; and produce videos, infographics, and articles available online.

Our focus is on indigent pet owners in Luna County. Our goal is to improve the lives of these animals by making spay/neuter surgeries more affordable through discount coupons and mobile veterinary vans. We also operate an emergency pet food bank, which allows indigent owners to retain their pets and channels them into spay/neuter. We operate the only trap-neuter-return program in the county to address feral cat overpopulation and operate two no-kill sanctuaries.

Our vision for Sky Mountain Wild Horse Sanctuary is permanent sanctuary of thousands of acres in northern New Mexico where wild horses run free throughout their lives. We are sustainably growing the organization to ensure a high quality haven for wild horses rounded up and removed from their home territories here in New Mexico while working to keep more mustangs free in the wild. We welcome visitors from all over the country, and our future intention is to share the sanctuary with children through experiential education.

Animal Protection of New Mexico

Animal Protection of New Mexico (APNM) is a statewide nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization. Since 1979, APNM has been advocating for animals by effecting systemic change, working towards the humane treatment of all animals. This includes active support of local and state legislation towards the prevention of animal cruelty, as well as public awareness campaigns designed to teach students and communities across New Mexico about the ongoing threats to animals.

What else is possible with your participation?

What began as a small, dedicated group of residents concerned about the unmet needs of animals has grown into an influential organization that is making a noticeable difference for New Mexico's animals and the communities in which they live. We are responsible for the passage of dozens of laws to protect animals in the state (apnm.org/accomplishments), while dramatically raising the visibility of issues New Mexico's animal population regularly faces.

APNM accomplishes its goals through education and outreach, as well as campaigns for change, working with other dedicated individuals, agencies, and organizations throughout New Mexico communities. Our legislative arm, Animal Protection Voters (apvnm.org), lobbies on behalf of animals and holds elected officials accountable. And through the Equine Protection Fund, we provide leadership and assistance to help the thousands of horses throughout the state threatened by abuse or neglect. Through our Companion Animal Rescue Effort, we provide temporary safe haven for the animals of domestic violence victims, allowing victims to leave their abusers and seek shelter knowing their animals will also be safe from abuse, and knowing they will later be reunited with their animal companions.

Report Animal Cruelty

APNM's Hotline and Cruelty Case Management system is unlike anything offered in any other state. Callers regularly tell APNM that no one else responded to their calls and that APNM made all the difference for an individual animal. Most calls are returned within 24 hours. Approximately 400 animal cruelty cases are reported to the hotline each year. APNM's animal cruelty hotline service is invaluable for the public who witness neglect and cruelty because often the information about animals in jeopardy can lead to eventual relief for many animal victims.

If you witness an animal being abused or neglected, please reach out to the Animal Cruelty Hotline at:

1-877-5-HUMANE
(1-877-548-6263)

Put this number in your phone so it is readily available.

Thank you for caring about New Mexico's animals.
